To Whom It May Concern:

Ms. Lijuan Pan entered my office for evaluation and treatment of injuries she sustained while at work. At the time of the injury she was employed by Value Windows and Doors Duarte. Following is the patient's description of her injury as well as a brief listing of the results of my examination findings.

Interim History:

Patient is complaining of pain in her lower back which radiates down her legs. The pain is a 7/10 and is present 100% of the time. Patient states the pain is the same as last visit. The pain is worse with prolonged sitting such as driving a car.

She gets numbness and weakness in her legs LT>RT.

She is doing acupuncture which is helping with pain relief and increasing her ADL. She is taking oral medications which also provide relief.

She gets an increase in pain when she misses therapy sessions.

The medications are helping her sleep better.

She is using the home IF unit and lumbar brace which gives her relief.

She's had an epidural in her lumbar spine in the past. She claims she had dizziness, increased blood sugar, and an increase in her weight. She was told not to have any more epidural injections.

She is complaining of continued anxiety and depression over her pain and situation. She follows up with the psychiatrist. She is taking sertraline 100mg daily. She denies thoughts to hurt herself or others.

Subjective:

Lijuan Pan presented to the office for consultation and examination due to a work injury that occurred on 5/9/2013. The injury occurred while she was pushing, pulling and lifting while at her job.

Occupational History:

She has been working as a worker in a window company for the past 1 years.

Patient's position requires the patient to be pushing, pulling and lifting. The patient is in seated position 1-2 hours per day. The patient is walking and standing for 6-8 hours per day. The patient is required to lift up to 100 pounds.

Patient was injured on 5/9/2013. On that day she was lifting a roll of aluminum material with a coworker, but she was lifting most of the weight since her coworker was already injured. As she was putting the roll on the cart, the cart moved and caused her to injur her back. She felt a tearing pain immediately in her lower back. The incident happened at the end of her shift. She returned the next day to report the injury and to go to the company doctor. She claims she gets numbness radiating down her left leg.

Patient reported the injury to her supervisor. Patient provided with medical treatment.

Ms. Pan described that she has discomfort in her lumbar, left sacroiliac, left buttock and left posterior leg area. She rates the discomfort right now as a 8 on a scale of 10 with 10 being the worst and is noticeable approximately 100% of the time. The discomfort at its worst is rated as a 9 and at its best it is a 6.

The onset of the pain was gradual and was first noticed 5/9/2013. Since the complaint began the symptoms have generally been worse. She reports that the pain is aggravated by prolonged sitting, prolonged walking, lying down and is 25 % worse when it is aggravated and it will stay that way for 30 minutes. She states that the discomfort is relieved by: resting and is reportedly diminished by 25%. The quality of the discomfort is described as numbness, sharp and aching and is at its worst in the evening.

Patient has HTN, but denies any other medical conditions. Patient denies alcohol or tobacco use.

Objective:

Her blood pressure was taken in the sitting and the observed measurement was 124/77. Her pulse measured 75 bpm.

Her skin temperature was measure to be 98.4 degrees Fahrenheit. She is 64" tall. She weighs 155 pounds.

Patient has palpable tenderness at lumbar and left sacroiliac. Abnormal gait. Skin inspection wnl DTR wnl. Patient is moving slowly from pain.

She is wearing the lumbar brace.

Lumbar Ranges of Motion

Lumbar Flexion 20 /60 Lumbar Extension 0 /30 Lumbar L Lateral Flexion 5/30 Lumbar R Lateral Flexion 5/30 Lumbar L Rotation5 /30 Lumbar R Rotation5 /30

Positive SLR on her right side at 45.

EMG/NCV of the bilateral lower extremities done on 7/25/2017 shows: There is electrodiagnostic evidence on NCS consistent with a bilateral peroneal motor nerve and left tibial motor nerve neuropathy. This finding can also be seen in a bilateral L5-S1 lumbar sacral radiculopathy.

Assessment:

The patient received a letter to transfer care to MPN. Per labor code 9767.10, "persists without full cure or worsens over a period of at least 90 days or requires ongoing treatment to maintain remission or prevent deterioration", the patient may stay with the current provider. Therefore, per patient's request, we will continue to treat this patient under labor code.

The following is a list of diagnostic impressions for Ms. Pan's current condition:(S33.5XXS) Sprain of ligaments of lumbar spine, M54.16

Discussion:

We have a 53 year old, Female, who sustained an injury while at work and is experiencing continuing trauma. The patient's condition is not permanent and stationary at this time.

Patient wishes to exercise her right to select a treating doctor of Her choice. We have accepted this request and would appreciate receiving copies of all prior medical records you may have relating to this injury, which will assist us in the determination of the patient's future treatment. Please forward the same information to this office upon receipt of this evaluation and on future dates, if additional medical records or consultations are received by you.

Plan:

Acupuncture 2x3 to the lumbar spine with decompression due to successful prior sessions

Continue medication as prescribed: Tramadol 50mg 1 tab po bid #60 for severe pain Gabapentin 300mg 1 tab po bid #60 for radiating pain

Follow up with psychiatrist.

She will be scheduled with a spine specialist to discuss her treatment options for her lumbar spine.

Patient is benefiting from using the Interspec IF-II unit and I am recommending the purchase with electrotherapy supplies.

I am requesting for a referral to pain management for Norco.

Continue home exercises and therapy.

Follow up appointment in one month.
